Puts on "Soft Pedal."

Nashville, Tenn., January 19.—"Well, I'll have to put on the soft pedal."

This is the exclamation Colonel Harvey, editor of Harper's Weekly, is declared to have made when Governor Woodrow Wilson, forced to reply to Colonel Harvey's query, said he feared editorial support in the weekly was injuring his (Wilson's) cause. A statement purporting to be a description of the meeting between Colonel Harvey and Governor Wilson with Henry Watterson in New York was given out here to-day by Judge Robert Ewing, Middle Tennessee representative of the State Woodrow Wilson organization, dee Ewing, who is related by marriage both to Governor Wilson and Mr. Watterson, asserts the Governor's statement to Colonel Harvey was made against the dictates of personal friendship and with the realization that Haragainst the dictates of personal friend-ship and with the realization that Har-vey's support had brought him (Wil-son) to the front Judge Ewing's statement begins:

Judge Ewing's statement begins:

"Colonel Harvey's intimates well knew that his editorial atterances were wholly untrammeled. He had been brought into close triendship with Woodrow Wilson and had conceived the highest estimate of his character.

Len Judge Ewing goes on to tell how Colonel Harvey, through editorials in Harper's Weekly, championed the cause of Woodrow Wilson for the Cause of Woodrow Wilson for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"Many not knowing the real independence of Colonel Harvey," Lie statement declares. "and seeking to harm in Wilson cause, began to induige in all sorts of confectures and unfounded intimations. As a result a number of Wilson's real friends began to be of the opinion that perhaps the weekly's carnets support was mintating against his (Wilson's) prospecta."

Ewing declares Governor Wilson's opinion was declared governor w

his (Wilson's) prospecta."

Ewing declares Governor Wilson's opinion was decidedly contrary to talk view, appreciating that Colonel Harvey, "had brought him to the front, appreciating Harvey's support and feeding it to be valuable."

Then followed the meeting in New York between Wilson, Harvey and Watterson. Judge Ewing declares at the close of the conference Colonel Harvey arose and said to Governor Wilson, "I wish to ask you a question, and it will be supported by the conference Colonel Harvey arose and said to Governor Wilson."

Your interest centres here the support of the conference Colonel Harvey arose and said to Governor Wilson.

"I wish to ask you a question, and i spect a frank answer. Do you believe that the booming nature of my articles in Harper's Weekly is injuring your cause?"

Judge Ewing says Governor Wilson's frienciship for Harvey demanded that the Governor answer in the negative to the query, but that Colonel Harvey had demanded frankness, and that Governor Wilson was obliged, with much embarrassment, to make such a reply that later his name as candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination was removed from the editorial columns. was removed from the editorial columns of Harper's Weekly. And Judge Ewing asserts Colonel Harvey exclaimed: Well, I'll have to put on the soft $2.45.

"It is not necessary for him to be an active candidate—in fact, he could not be expected to be," said Mr. Fort, "and I have not urged him to be, but have only asked that he give assurance to other friends and myself that he will not withstand a strong popular demand for him to accept the nomination. I have no authority to speak for Colonel Rooseveit, but I know his nature, and I do not believe it will be long before ne will make his position clear."
